HEARD IN HOTEL CORRIDORS.

Copper King Heinze in Washington.

F. A. Heinze, of Butte, Mont., is a guest at the New Willard. He was in New York when he heard accidentally of the Princeton banquet to be held last night and came to Washington that he might attend it. He is a graduate of Princeton and a favorite with the alumni.

While still a young man, Mr. Heinze is a multi-millionaire. For several years he and Senator William A. Clark, of the same State, have been interested in copper investments. Their success has often been told. When Mr. Heinze arrived at the banquet hall last night he was greeted enthusiastically and before he departed, every man present shook his hand and enjoyed a short conversation on old college incidents.

While Mr. Heinze denies it, it is said he has been of much financial benefit to Princeton in that institution's recent rejuvenation. Mr. Heinze was accompanied by Arthur A. Brownlee, of New York, who is remembered by all as one of the most brilliant baseball players the college ever had enrolled and has aided materially in winning many victories.

Manufacturers of Postal Cards.

"We have made millions of postal cards," said William A. Luke, of Covington, Va., to a Times reporter this morning at the New Willard.

Mr. Luke is a member of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, which has large plants in Piedmont, W. Va., and at Covington, Va. For many years this company manufactured the postal cards for the Government and for a long time was the only firm in the country engaged in the business.

"Our company uses an immense quantity of timber in the manufacture of pulp," continued Mr. Luke, "and we erected our plant in Virginia to be near to the timber tracts purchased by us and thus lessen the cost of our product. At our plant in West Virginia, we have manufactured millions and millions of postal cards. These were carefully inspected and counted by representatives of the Government and the cards sealed and sent to Washington. It is the intention of the company to greatly increase the output of its plants and this will mean many more employees."

Dr. Wilson at the New Willard.

"Princeton was never in a more promising condition than now," said Dr. Wendell Wilson, president of that institution this morning to a reporter for the Times. "The alumni seem to be more enthusiastic than ever before, and the banquets, such as was enjoyed last night, have done much to arouse every graduate ton, Mr. and Mrs. Ethan Allen Doty, Mrs. Dudley, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mrs. Plumer, of Maine, and A. H. Davison.

Weddings—Engagements.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Laird Henry, of Cambridge, Md., have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lee Campbell Henry, to James Spear, Jr., of this city, on April 16, at 12 o'clock, at Christ Protestant Episcopal Church, Cambridge, Md.

Apocryph of the much-talked-about wedding of Miss Ellen Nixon Wain and the Baron St. Marc, which will take place at noon today in the gold drawing room of the Flinders Hotel, Philadelphia, it might be interesting to cite an extract from the marriage license issued by the orphan's court. It states that the Baron St. Marc is twenty-nine years of age, and was born in Montefontaine, Oise, France, and that Miss Wain is twenty-four years old, and a native of Philadelphia. The ceremony, which will be performed by his grace the Archbishop of Philadelphia, will take place at the extreme end of the drawing room under a canopy of palms and flowers. Many invitations have been issued.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Weyand announce the marriage of their daughter, Helen Howell, to Henry McCoy Walters, on March 25, 1903.

Notes.

Dr. George V. I. Brown, a dentist of Milwaukee, will go to Madrid next month to represent this country at the International Medical Congress. Dr. Brown's commission is signed by the Assistant Secretary of State. He will also represent the St. Louis Exposition, and will be the representative of the American Medical Association and the National Dental Association.

Senator and Mrs. Chauncey M. Depew, who are in New York, will remain there until Easter, when they go to Baltimore to stay with Mr. and Mrs. George W. Vanderbilt.

Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth will soon close her Washington home for the season. She will attend the dedication of the St. Louis Exposition and from there go to Texas to visit friends.

Miss Janet Newlands and Miss Hopkins will sail for New York April 1. They have been spending the winter in Egypt and are now in Paris.

Col. Winfield S. Edgerly arrived at Fort Myer this morning and assumed command of the Second Cavalry. Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. Schuyler gave a tea at their quarters at the post this afternoon in honor of Colonel Edgerly. It is expected that the advent of the new colonel will be the signal for a of the college to great effort in singing the praises of the school. "I have never attended a more delightful banquet than that given last night. It made me glad to see the enthusiasm which prevails in the Washington colony of graduates. Many banquets have been held over the country by the alumni, and at every one much interest was shown by the men in the recent improvements."

"As a graduate of the college, I am doubly interested in bringing it to the foremost rank of educational institutions and we hope for complete success."

President Wilson is at the New Willard.

The Panama Canal.

Senor J. A. Garvira, editor of "El Comercio," a journal published at Medellin, in Colombia, is registered at the Raleigh. He arrived in Washington last night to enjoy a few days' sight-seeing and studying the Panama canal situation from the American standpoint. In conversation this morning with a Times reporter, he said:

"There is much division in sentiment in Colombia concerning the advisability of concluding the treaty with the United States in regard to the isthmian canal. Colombians are inclined to believe the United States in time will not be satisfied with the small strip of land to be given them and will want more."

"The more capable thinkers favor the treaty, however, and will hail the day of the canal's opening. It means much to our country, for the business interests will receive an impetus of great value to the people. The construction of the canal will make revolutions impossible."

Lorillard Here for the Races.

F. Lorillard, of New York, arrived in Washington last night and is registered at the New Willard. Mr. Lorillard is the millionaire tobacco manufacturer and possesses a string of fast horses. He came to Washington that he might witness the Chevy Chase Steeplechase at Benning this afternoon, and also look over some of the runners which are for sale. When approached by a Times reporter, Mr. Lorillard declined to talk and refused to disclose any plans while here.

Prominent Pittsburg Banker.

James W. Scully, a prominent banker of Pittsburg, is registered at the New Willard for a few days' rest. He is connected with the Diamond National Bank of the Smoky City as its president, and has succeeded in making it one of the strongest financial institutions in the State of Pennsylvania.

ries of social affairs for which the Third Cavalry has become notable throughout the service.

Mrs. Charles G. Davis and her two young sons, who are home from Groton, Mass., for their spring vacation, are stopping at the Grafton. Mrs. Davis has been spending several weeks in Porto Rico. Miss Davis, who accompanied her mother did not return with her, and is enjoying the many entertainments given in honor of Miss Roosevelt.

Bradley Martin, Jr., is the guest of his aunt, Mrs. William B. Rochester, of Eighteenth Street. Frederick Townsend Martin, who has been spending several weeks in the South, will also be Mrs. Rochester's guest during the coming week.

Miss Ida Thompson has closed her house on Massachusetts Avenue for the season, and will sail today from Boston for Europe. Miss Thompson will go to Italy and Switzerland. She will return to America at midsummer and join friends at one of the Northern resorts.

The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Thomas K. Noble have returned to Washington from Norfolk, Conn. They will make this city their permanent home, and are established for the present at 2009 Massachusetts Avenue.

Mrs. Mann, wife of Representative Mann, of Illinois, will remain in Washington for the spring months.

Miss Margaret Menet, of Kansas City, is visiting relatives in Washington.

Mrs. Jennie Burritt entertained her friends at her home on Sixteenth Street northeast, Thursday afternoon. Refreshments were served in the dining room.

Mission Meeting at British Embassy.

The British ambassador and Lady Herbert loaned the ballroom of the embassy yesterday afternoon for a meeting of the Zenana Bible and Medical Mission of which Lord Kinnaird is treasurer, and the following women vice presidents: The Countess of Aberdeen, the Countess of Errol, the dowager Lady Lawrence, Lady Kinnaird, Lady (Herbert) Edwards, Lady Phayre, Lady Elliott, Lady Hope, Hon. Mrs. Waller, Mrs. Duncan Kay, Mrs. Ponsoby Moore, Mrs. H. G. E. de St. Dalmas, Mrs. Le Roy, Mrs. Wardle, Mrs. Duncan, Mrs. Simson, Mrs. Lowe, Mrs. H. C. Squires, Mrs. Bishop, Mrs. Skinner.

The meeting was addressed by Honorable Miss Kinnaird and Miss Edge, who gave an interesting account of their work in the East, told many amusing and pathetic anecdotes of the people among whom they labor, and made an eloquent plea for funds for their mission. All the smart people in town were present, and there was a generous response to their request for aid.

Commissioner Macfarland made a few introductory remarks. Among those present were the German minister and Baroness von Sternburg, Mrs. John W. Foster, Mrs. Burrows, Mrs. Leonard Wood, Mrs. John B. Henderson, Miss Satterlee, Miss McLanahan, Mrs. Boutwell, Miss Boutell, Mrs. Van Rensselaer Cruger, Mrs. Archibald Hopkins, Mrs. Southerland, Mrs. Gallaudet, Mrs. Henry Cleveland Perkins, Mrs. William Elroy Curtis, Miss Edes, Miss Almy, Miss Hodge, Miss Skidmore, Mrs. Randolph McKim, Mrs. Cropper, Mrs. LaFetra, and Mrs. H. B. F. Macfarland.

Members of the Monks of the Meer-schaum, a social and literary organization nearly fifty years old, were entertained on Thursday evening by Addison B. Burk, at his home, 1121 Mount Vernon Street. The monks arranged for a grand dinner, at which their fellow-member, Governor Pennypacker, is to be the guest of honor.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Charles Righter, of 1816 North Seventeenth Street, gave a dance yesterday evening for their daughter, Miss Edith Vandever Righter. Miss Righter was assisted in receiving by Miss M. Elizabeth Hughes, Miss Nellie McLaughlin, both of Philadelphia, and Miss Irene M. Baird, Miss Rachael Allmond, and Miss Rebecca Cann, of Wilmington, Del.

New York Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Orme Wilson are at the Waldorf-Astoria. Their new residence, with its wonderful ballroom, is nearly completed. They will see that it is in the hands of the decorators before they leave for the country.

The Duke and Duchess of Manchester have arrived in town, and are at the Holland House. They are booked to sail for Europe on April 8.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Vanderbilt have left town and gone to Baltimore, their place in North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic J. de Peyster have left town and gone to Lakewood for a few weeks' stay.

Baltimore Chit-Chat.

A dinner was given on Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Preston, Jr., at their home, 50 West Biddle Street, to Mrs. J. H. Sherburne, of Boston, and Mrs. Archibald M. Bell, of Pittsburgh, who are visiting in Baltimore.

Mrs. Alexander Brown and Miss Brown have returned to their home, in Cathedral Street, from a visit to New York. While there they were guests at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Miss Annie Campbell Thomas has returned to her home in Baltimore from a visit to Mrs. Courtland Smith at her residence, near Alexandria, Va.

Gen. L. Victor Baughman and his daughter, Miss Helen Abell Baughman, are spending several days in New York, where they are staying at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Philadelphia Notes.

At the literary and musical evening at Dr. and Mrs. Matthew Woods' residence, on South Broad Street, on Tuesday night, Francis Howard Williams read with good effect his own powerful story, "De Profundis," that appeared in Lippincott's a few months ago. Mrs. G. Oram Ring gave a charming reading of "The Quest of the Holy Grail," from Tennyson's "Idylls of the King," and Mrs. Joseph Allison Steinmetz performed selections from German musical composers.

Members of the Monks of the Meer-schaum, a social and literary organization nearly fifty years old, were entertained on Thursday evening by Addison B. Burk, at his home, 1121 Mount Vernon Street. The monks arranged for a grand dinner, at which their fellow-member, Governor Pennypacker, is to be the guest of honor.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Charles Righter, of 1816 North Seventeenth Street, gave a dance yesterday evening for their daughter, Miss Edith Vandever Righter. Miss Righter was assisted in receiving by Miss M. Elizabeth Hughes, Miss Nellie McLaughlin, both of Philadelphia, and Miss Irene M. Baird, Miss Rachael Allmond, and Miss Rebecca Cann, of Wilmington, Del.

SYMPHONY HAS EARNED GENEROUS SUPPORT

Mr. Wadsworth's Strong Statement on Its Behalf.

Under the caption, "An Appeal to All Lovers of Music," Herbert Wadsworth has issued the following plea for the support to which the Washington Symphony Orchestra is entitled:

"About a year since Mr. De Koven conceived the idea of forming a Washington Symphony Orchestra, composed essentially of Washington musicians—musicians dwelling in Washington. A small sum was procured to cover the immediate expenses and a sufficient guarantee fund underwritten to enable the scheme to take the form, you know."

"Mr. De Koven has given his time without remuneration, and probably no one but himself suspects the amount of work he has done in organizing and instructing the gentlemen who are associated with him in the orchestra. Mr. Droop also has given his time as treasurer and business manager under the same conditions, and I can vouch that the work has been no comfort to the private business of either of them."

"After the really remarkable success of the concerts given this season, which have certainly shown beyond question or comment that all promises for a thoroughly competent and efficient orchestra in Washington on the original plans laid down have been more than made good, the guarantors feel confident in appealing to all music lovers and public-spirited citizens and those interested in the development of musical Washington for funds either in the form of a guarantee or subscriptions necessary to assure the maintenance and continuance of the orchestra for the coming season of 1903-4."

"After the work done this season, it would be a manifest injustice to Mr. De Koven and the members of the orchestra who have labored earnestly and faithfully to provide Washington with much needed musical opportunities, to say nothing of the reflection thereby cast on our town as a music-loving community. If the concerts were to be discontinued next season for lack of proper and needed support."

"The work done by the orchestra this season under Mr. De Koven's leadership has not only justified its continued existence as a permanent local institution, but also given it a justified claim on the interest and support of the community."

SONG RECITAL GIVEN AT FAIRMONT SEMINARY

Miss Lena Pitts Makes a Most Favorable Impression.

The fourth of the Friday evening entertainments was held last night at Fairmont Seminary, and consisted of a song recital by Miss Lena Pitts, with a piano accompaniment by Miss Kate Owen.
